INDIAN AFFAIRS. Abstract of the Annual Report of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

The Commissioner, reporting on the condition and prospects of the various Indian tribes and exhibiting in detail the operations of the past year, says that the New York Indians continue to improve, generally adopting agricultural and mechanical pursuits, and even the habits and customs of the whites.

By treaties concluded in July and August. 1855, the Indians in Michigan were relieved from their obligation to remove west of the Mississippi river; they received limited but sufficient quantities of land, held by them in severalty, and ample means for educational purposes. The Menomonees and Stockbridges of Wisconsin, under advantages similar to those enjoyed by the Indians in Michigan, are gradually preparing themselves to be admitted as citizens of the United States. The Indians in Minnesota are doing well. It is, however, thought that their reservations are too large, and ought to be curtailed, so as to give to each one a limited quantity in severalty, whereby, it is thought, they would receive a greater incentive to personal exertion and in-A small outlawed band of Sioux committed murders and outrages at the white settlement at Spirit Lake, in March last, for which they have been punished by their own brethren. A portion of the Indians at the headwaters of the Missouri were severely scourged by the small-pox, losing by that malady 2,000 souls. Treaties have been made with the tribes west of Missouri, by which the title of these Indians to all the lands owned and claimed by them, except such portions as were reserved for their future homes, was extinguished. Thus 13,658,000 acres were acquired for occupancy by our citizens in Nebraska and Kansas, whilst 1,342,000 acres were reserved for the use of the Indians. The lands ceded by the Delawares were sold for their benefit, realizing $1.054.943.71; those of the Ioways $184,437.85; and those of the four united tribes $335,350.

The tribal lands of the Wyandotts, at the junction of the Missouri and Kansas rivers, were divided amongst them, giving to each soul about forty acres. During the past summer a treaty was made with the Pawnees, which is calculated, if approved by the Senate, to place these restless and lawless Indians in a settled condition, where they can easily be controlled.

The Commissioner concurs fully with the statements of his predecessors, that our Indian policy has two radical mistakes: first, the lands assigned to them are entirely too large; secondly, the payment of large annuities. The former prevents the Indians from acquiring settled habits; the latter causes them to foster a feeling of dependence and habits of idleness. exposing them to the wiles and machinations of inhuman traffickers in ardent spirits, unprincipled gamblers, and greedy and avaricious traders and speculators. No more land ought to be given them than they can cultivate; they should not be allowed to lease or sell their lands except to members of their own respective tribes; and their annuities should be used for the erection of schools and mechanics' shops; especially they should be relieved of the presence of worthless idlers and vagrants of their own tribes, whose idle habits and roving dispositions preclude them from settling down quietly and orderly. For all such restless characters colonies should be erected somewhere about Fort Bent and the heads of the Arkansas and Platte rivers.

The reports in regard to the four great South Western tribes, the Cherokees, Creeks, Choctaws, and Chickasaws, are very favorable. They have regularly organized Governments and laws, well suited to their condition and

The tribes of the Southern Superintendency have, for some years, severely suffered of drought; but the present season was very abundant, and they have ample supplies of all necessaries of life.

It is expected that the Seminoles will soon remove and settle within the district assigned them in the treaty of 1856. A delegation of Seminoles will soon visit their brethren in Florida to induce them to emigrate to their

The Commissioner recommends the repeal of the law requiring that the monies due to Indians should be paid by the Superintendents instead of the Agents. He also assigns at length his reasons, with great force, why the per capita payments should be abolished.

acquiring from the Cherokees 800,000 acres, on which the whites make already settlements, entirely against the laws, and which the Indians are willing to dispose of.

The colonization of the Texas Indians on the reservations set apart by that State is favorably progressing.

The Indians in New Mexico are beginning to have some understanding and appreciation of our power and resources, and the necessity of the whites.

The Indians on the Upper Arkansas and Upper Platte, with the exception of the Cheyennes and Kioways, have been quiet and peacefully disposed during the year. The Cheyennes were in open hostility, and though chastised by our troops, commanded by Col. Sumner, are not yet sufficiently subdued. The information concerning the Indians in Utah is but scanty. It is feared that they have the larger portion of them will probably be found to side with those enemies of the Government and laws.

The Superintendent of California reports that "universal peace prevails among the tribes throughout the State," and that the progress of the reservations is such as the most sanguine friends of the Indians could wish for. Among other facts, he states that the Nome Lackee reservation raised over ten thousand bushels of wheat, and that the work was done by Indians, having only two white men as overseers.

On the reservations in the southern part of the State the drought has injured the crops. Five reservations have been established—Sebastian, or Sejon, Klamath, Nome Lackee, Mendouno, and Fresno farm-on which about 11.239 Indians have been colonized.

A most reprehensible practice has prevailed to some extent in California, of kidnapping and selling Indian children; only few persons acted thus inhumanly, and the voice of the people has unanimously denounced it. The malefactors were punished according to the requirements of the law.

A large numbers of claims have been presented for payment for supplies furnished the Indian service in California, during the years 1851 and 1852, which have not been paid for want of appropriations. A special appropriation was made July 29, 1854, "with interest from the first day of June, 1851, at the rate of ten per cent." to pay Col. Fremont. Congress having thus acknowledged the validity of the claims, the Commissioner recommends that they should be investigated with a view to their final settlement. The Indian affairs in Oregon and Washington Territories are in a very critical condition, and under the existing state of affairs there is a constant liability, on their part, of a general outbreak from any disturbing cause, which would require millions to subdue them. The non-ratification of treaties made with them with a view of extinguishing their titles to the lands necessary for the use and occupancy of our citizens has produced great dissatisfaction. They are willing to dispose of their lands, and they ought to be acquired.

Our settlements, as well as the friendly Indians along Puget Sound and Admiralty Inlet, suffer much from predatory incursions of Indians from Van Couver's Island, and the other adjacent British and Russian possessions. To afford the nesessary protection, the employment of a light draught armed steamer in those waters is essential. The Commissioner finally recommends the to Indian Affairs.

Having been induced by a friend to visit the estab-lishment of Mr. Tobias for the purpose of trying his glasses I was furnished with a pair slightly colored blue, whice have afforded me more relief and gratifi-night, frequently to a very late hour: but with the aid of these glasses I can study almost as late as ever, and that too without the pain I have previously suffered.

From natural defects and the unequal range of my eyes, I have been compelled to use glasses for seve-ral years. I have tried different opticians without obtaining glasses perfectly fitted to my eyes. Four months since Mr. Tobias made two pairs especially for me, which I have found to serve me perfectly. THE ENGLISH DICTIONARY. - Authors are talking about a new dictionary of the English language which the great publishing houses in London are taking up "in spirit congenial with the trade." A noble scheme (so it is called) has been made before the Row and Albemarle street, and the leading firms are committed to The Commissioner suggests the propriety of give us a new dictionary, to supersede Johnson and Richardson. We are to hear very little more of Johnson's Dictionary, or Richardson's Dictionary; and, as for Webster and Todd, they are to disappear as authorities, and the quotation prices at which they will soon sell at Sotheby and Wilkinson's, and Willis and Sotheran's, will be lamentably low-a "fearful sacrifice quotation." Then the Philological Society, with Trench, and Furnivall, and Coleridge, have a proposal with regard to the present state of preserving peace with one another, and with | English lexicography. The society has formed within itself a special committee, for the purpose of collecting English words and idioms hitherto unregistered. The committee invite communications and distribute rules. They at first very properly confine their labors to the less-read authors of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and call attention to the unworked mines for dictionary-makers of repute, like Philemond, Holland, Moore, and Bishop Hackett. Thus some competent person is to been tampered with by the Mormons, and that | read certain authors for words alone; and to extract such words with due attention to the passage and the page, and contribute the result to the society. The idea is most excellent. Take an instance from their illustrations of their plan. Thus the earliest examples given in Johnson or Richardson of the word "yacht" is from "Cook's Voyages;" leading the student to believe that a yacht was a novelty early in the reign of King George III .- which, indeed it was not, for Evelyn mentions it in his " Memoirs" as a yacht or pleasure-boat just one hundred years before .- London Ill. News.

> AN END TO KISSING .- A short while since the affectionate public was astonished by the story of a young lady whose neck was dislocated in consequence of the ill-advised resistance which she offered to the amicable salute of an admirer more ardent than discreet. Our last exchanges from Europe now match this tale with another of an inquest held at Leeds on the body of a young man of twenty-one, who fell down stairs and killed himself in the course of an attempt to snatch a kiss from the unwilling lips of a girl of fifteen. Some of our cotemporaries deduced from the first of these occurrences the wholesome moral that young ladies should never oppose the advances of their admirers. In common fairness we are now bound to infer from the second accident that no man should ever attempt to take a kiss until it is offered to him. Between the two lessons there is reason to fear that an ancient and not altogether disagreeable custom may be summarily abolished.

AN AUTOGRAPH WORTH HAVING .- When Dr. Mackay, now on a visit to this country, was editor of the London Morning Chronicle, Sydney Smith placed in his hands the MS. of his subsequently world-renowed letter on Pennsylvania Repudiation, requesting him to look carefully over the proof. Dr. Mackay retained his "copy" as an autograph, which now has a kind of historical value as well as a curious personal interest. It has one or two characteristic jokes, erased by the author as too broad. This autograph excited the admiration of a Boston gentleman, when in England, well known for his literary taste and publishing enterprise, and Dr. Mackay gave him an agreeable surprise, the other day, by presenting him with this most desirable production of the reverend wit -N. Y. Post.

EARTHQUAKE IN VIRGINIA.- A slight shock of an earthquake was felt in Lewisburg, Greenbrier county, Va., about ten o'clock on Thursday night. The same moment a very targe land slide took place on the Greenbrier river, hear Edgar's Mill. About the same time, the Chronicle says, the revision and codification of all the laws relating whole end of a mountain gave way and was pre-to Indian Affairs.

DR. STEPHEN BAILY,
OFFICE No. 198 PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE,
Three doors from 14th Street,

DR. BAILY begs leave to inform the public that he can be seen at all hours, at his office, located as above. He feels assured that an experience of fifteen years' practice, with the large number of patients, and great variety of difficult cases that he has treated successfully, will enable him to surmount any difficulty, scientific or otherwise, relating to the Teeth. His own experience confirming the opinion of many meneminent in the profession, and especially Drs. Harris and J. and E. Parmly, has led him, long since, to discard all mercurial preparations for filling Teeth, also all Enamels, Gutta Percha, India Rubber, and Cements for the construction of Continuous Gum ments for the construction of Continuous Gum Teeth, and that Porcelian, mounted on Gold Plate, is the only reliable substance that can be worn in the American Dental Convention.

Although he flatters himself from his long residence and practice in Washington, he is favorably known to his numerous friends and patrons, he begaleave to refer them to the following

From one of the oldest firms in Baltimore, Meesrs. Having employed Dr. Stephen Baily, Surgeon Dentist, of Washington city, to execute for me an important and difficult piece of work, which he did to my entire satisfaction, and in view of the fact that one of the most distinguished members of the Dental College of Baltimore, failed, after repeated trials, to perform the same work satisfactorily, it gives me great pleasure to express my entire confidence and high estimation of his professional skill. high estimation of his professional skill. Baltimore, Jan. 12, 1857. HARMANN BOGGS.

To those that seek relief from the maladies of the teeth, I can cheerfully recommend Dr. S. Baily as a superior Dentist; he made a set of porcelian teeth for one of my family, and plugged several teeth for myself, and the work has all stood well for more than ten years.
